About: I have completed my M.A. in Political Science from North Bengal University with specialization on 'Indian States and Society' in 2009. Later I completed M.Phil from North Bengal University in 2014. My M.Phil dissertation paper was on 'Judiciary and Social Change'. I have acquired some professional experiences when I worked at Falakata College, Falakata, Alipurduar for six years as Guest Lecturer. Then I teach for some times at Alipurduar High School, Alipurduar, as Assistant Teacher in Political Science. I have some research articles and publications that I mentioned below.

Teaching: At BMMV I teach Political Process in India, Political Theory, Western Political Thought, Comparative politics, International relations and Political sociology.
